

Halo Job Description : Senior Project Manager

Job Purpose:

The Senior Project Manager is responsible for the end-to-end delivery of a portfolio of complex structure build projects, ensuring they are delivered to the highest standards. This role requires strong leadership, commercial awareness, and the ability to manage multiple priorities in a fast-paced environment.

Key Responsibilities:

Project Delivery

- Lead multiple complex projects simultaneously, ensuring delivery against business, operational, and profitability targets.
- Manage full project lifecycle activity, including planning, budgeting, client liaison, supplier coordination, and on-site delivery.
- Own project financial performance, including cashflow management, approvals, purchase orders, and cost control.
- Set and manage project timelines, ensuring internal teams and external partners deliver to schedule.
- Maintain strong client and stakeholder relationships through clear communication and expectation management.
- Coordinate technical project requirements, keeping all parties aligned throughout delivery.
- Manage supply chain partners to ensure best value, quality, and service.
- Ensure compliance with Health & Safety standards, including RAMS and required documentation.
- Oversee on-site build and de-rig phases, ensuring successful execution and client satisfaction.
- Lead project debriefs and post-delivery reviews, embedding learnings and driving continuous improvement.
- Support the Commercial Director with new enquiries, pitches, and proposal submissions as required.

Role Requirements:

- Extensive experience delivering event projects, particularly within sporting events, sponsorship activations, exhibitions, or similar environments.
- Strong knowledge of temporary structures, site overlay, and event infrastructure.
- Experience delivering international projects; ensuring all timelines align with venue access, shipping movements, crew requirements, visa and client commitments.
- Proven ability to manage client and stakeholder relationships at all levels.
- Strong commercial and financial acumen, including supplier negotiation and profitability management.
- Resilient, organised, and able to perform under pressure in fast-paced environments.
- Demonstrated leadership experience, with the ability to lead high-performing cross functional teams.
- Proficient IT skills, including G-Suite and Microsoft Office.
